Question of the Day: Can the virus that causes COVID-19 spread to people through the water in pools, hot tubs, or water playgrounds? (Source: Centers for Disease Control and Prevention)

- CDC is not aware of any scientific reports of the virus that causes COVID-19 spreading to people through the water in pools, hot tubs, or water playgrounds. Plus, proper operation of public pools, hot tubs, and water playgrounds (such as at an apartment complex or owned by a community) and disinfection of the water (with chlorine or bromine) should inactivate the virus.
- The virus mainly spreads when respiratory droplets from infected people land in the mouths or noses of others or possibly when inhaled into the lungs by others. If a public pool, hot tub, or water playground is open, it is important for all visitors and staff to take steps to slow the spread of the virus:
  - Stay home if you are infected or might be infected with the virus that causes COVID-19.
  - Stay at least 6 feet apart (in and out of the water) from people you don't live with.
  - Wear cloth masks when not in water.
  - Cover coughs and sneezes with a tissue (or use the inside of your elbow), throw used tissues in the trash, and wash hands.
  - Wash your hands often with soap and water for at least 20 seconds. Use hand sanitizer with at least 60% alcohol if soap and water are not readily available.
- See Considerations for Public Pools, Hot Tubs, and Water Playgrounds for more information.
